

Khoi Nguyen Le is a Classical Academy and CTE Engineering senior. Guided by a passion for STEM and education, Khoi strives to promote excellence as a student leader. Khoi currently serves as president of Science National Honor Society, vice president of Student Council, and founder of the Math Club. Khoi also competes as an athlete in Cross Country and Track. Khoi aims to pursue an aerospace engineering major, and is currently interested in schools like Northeastern University and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. In his free time, Khoi enjoys journaling and playing video games.